DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 21 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 21 recites the limitation "wherein the ridges are substantially devoid of said substance" in lines 6-7. Previously, the substance was described as being located on at least some of said ridges. It is therefore unclear whether the substance is or is not located on the ridges. For purposes of examination, it is assumed that the substance is located on at least some of the ridges.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 21 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Wada et al. (6,436,081).

Art Unit: 3761

Wada discloses a body contacting topsheet 5 for an absorbent article 1, as shown in figure 1. The topsheet 5 comprises a web, as disclosed in column 4, lines 1-4, which is capable of being stretched, and therefore is extensible. The topsheet 5 has a plurality of ridges 8 and valleys 7, as shown in figure 2. The topsheet 5, and therefore at least some of the ridges, are treated with a surfactant, as disclosed in column 4, lines 8-9, which would increase the friction between the topsheet and the wearer's skin, thus aiding in maintaining the topsheet in contact with the wearer's body.

Claim 23 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Johnson et al. (4,595,392).

Johnson discloses an absorbent device 1, as shown in figure 1, that is insertable into the interlabial space of a female wearer. The device 1 comprises a liquid pervious top structure 7 and an absorbent material 6. The device 1 is folded along an axis 2 such that the underside of the two halves contact each other so the device assumes an inverted V or U-shaped cross-sectional structure, as shown in figure 3.

Double Patenting

A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Art Unit: 3761

Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claim 11 of prior U.S. Patent No. 6,635,799. This is a double patenting rejection.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-10 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-10 of U.S. Patent No. 6,635,799. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because all limitations of the instant claims are disclosed in the patented claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. U.S. Patents 5,885,265 and 6,254,584 disclose absorbent devices folded to be inserted into a wearer's interlabial space. U.S. Patents 5,990,377; 6,319,238; 6,362,391; 6,375,644; 6,432,094; and 6,648,869 disclose topsheets having a plurality of ridges and valleys.
